UNH Annual Dance Company Concert
March 26-30

For Immediate Release
March 5, 2013: Durham, NH-

The UNH Dance Company presents a dance concert featuring ballet, jazz, tap and aerial dance, March 26-30, 2013 in the UNH Johnson Theatre. The concert features two original acts, “Pirates” and “Echoes of the Highland.”

Cast off on an adventure with the fiercest lady buccaneers on the high seas! These swashbucklin’ lasses fear no man as they fly, swing, tap and soar in search of their pirate booty. “Pirates” is created and choreographed by Professor Gay Nardone.

“Echoes of the Highland” is an original ballet that takes a journey through Scottish custom and history. Using contemporary interpretations and traditional Scottish dance and music, the ballet features Clan MacDonald and uses non-narrative movement to reawaken Scotland’s past. “Echoes of the Highland” is created and choreographed by Professor C. Laurence Robertson. The UNH Dance Concert runs March 26-29 at 7:00 p.m. and March 30 at 2:00 p.m. in the UNH Johnson Theatre.

For tickets, contact the PCAC ticket office (Monday through Friday between 10:00AM and 5:00PM) at 603-862-7222. You may also purchase tickets online with no additional fees at unharts.com. Tickets are $7.00 for youth 12 and under, $14.00 for students, seniors, UNH ID holders and groups of 15 or more and $16.00 for general admission. For more information about our season, our programs, to book a tour or to make field trip reservations for your school, visit unh.edu/theatre-dance or call 603.862.2919.

Photo credit:
UNH Photo services