NOON FACULTY RESEARCH DISCUSSIONS

The lunch-time faculty research discussions will continue on Wednesdays from noon to 1 p.m. in the Hillsboro Room of the MUB, except for Oct. 3 and 10 which will be in the Grafton Room next door. Food may be purchased in the MUB or brought as "bag lunch." The first meeting will be Wednesday, September 12. We will plan our fall schedule at this time.
Once again the Women's Studies Program will sponsor a welcome reception for new women faculty at UNH. This year it will be held on Thursday, September 20, from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Faculty Center. All veteran women faculty, staff, and administrators are also invited to attend to welcome the newcomers. Wine and cheese will be served.

NEW COURSES

The Women's Studies Program had two new courses approved late last spring. These are: WS 595 "Special Topics in Women's Studies" and WS 795 "Independent Study." They are designed to allow course coverage of topics that are not covered by departmental offerings, or are interdisciplinatory and essentially Women's Studies in nature. Further information and/or discussion of projected topics, please see the Women's Studies co-ordinator.

This brings to a total of four the courses which are designated "Women's Studies" in the catalog and schedule book. The other two are Women's Studies 401, "Introduction to Women's Studies," and Women's Studies 698, "Senior Seminar." Each is taught once a year.

WOMEN'S STUDIES OFFICE

The Women's Studies office now holds a basic library of essential Women's Studies texts and feminist classics. These are available for borrowing for short periods. The office also stocks a complete set of SIGNS, Quest, Female Studies I-X, and numerous other periodicals and resources, including a file of media resources, brochures on other Women's Studies programs, on grants and fellowships, materials from the National Women's Studies Association, etc.

The office in 19 Murkland is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

JUNE NATIONAL WOMEN'S STUDIES CONVENTION
LAWRENCE KANSAS

Barbara White and Anne Barrett represented the UNH WS Program at the national convention in June. Both presented papers on projects they had conducted here: Barbara on the Senior Seminar she taught last spring wherein students researched unpublished regional women writers; and Anne on the Nursing Home Project where Women's Studies courses are being "outreached" to residents of local nursing homes. This project continues this fall with Laurel Ulrich of the History Department teaching a course on "Women in New England History." Anne and Barbara will report on the national convention at an early bag lunch meeting.

EVALUATION

This is evaluation year for the Women's Studies Program. Susan White of the Political Science Department will chair the committee charged with evaluating the Program to determine what its permanent institutional status will be. The program began in the summer of 1977 with a three-year mandate. The evaluation should be completed by the end of the fall semester.

WS LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The Library Committee is in the process of preparing an up-to-date bibliography of WS resources in the UNH Library. It is hoped that this project will be completed by the end of the year.
