Author Biographies

Breezy Ferreira

Breezy Ferreira is a Junior at UNH. She is majoring in Sociology, and minoring in Spanish, Forensics, and Justice Studies. She is interested in studying human trafficking, with a focus on sex trafficking, and the factors in society that allow these problems to continue.

Remy Frost

Remy Frost is currently a senior at UNH and will graduate in May 2018 with a B.A. in Classics and Sociology. They plan to pursue graduate research in queer linguistics and the social construction of knowledge, eventually hoping to work as a sociologist for a research institution. In the meantime, they will be studying Japanese and ranting about capitalism and psychiatry online.
Emily Haley is a senior Sociology and International Affairs dual major. Her areas of interest include race and ethnic relations with a specific focus on East Asia, globalization, and the LGBT population.

Evan Smith is a Senior at the University of New Hampshire in the class of 2018. He has majors in Sociology and Justice Studies as well as a minor in Forensics. His primary areas of academic interest are self-harm and suicide, as well as a focus on quantitative data for which he will be pursuing a Master's Degree from Columbia University.