What are people saying?

"The MAJS program is the perfect mix of challenging and self-empowering, all conveniently packed into one calendar year. Each course... covers a wide array of topics within the justice studies realm, so you are guaranteed to find a specific area that you want to pursue. On top of the interesting courses, the professors are engaging and supportive and bring the material to life. Due to the small class sizes, I have been able to make close friendships within my class and lasting connections with the faculty and professionals in the field!" – Kristina Kallas (2019)

"The Master's in Justice Studies Program was an invaluable experience. As a current law student and future attorney, I continue to rely on my knowledge and interpretive skills acquired during my time in the MAJS program... I firmly believe that the MAJS program provides students with an interest in law, justice, and related fields the language and tools to achieve success." – Amy Oldenquist (2016)

"This program provided me with constant opportunities to challenge my own assumptions about the justice system in America. I believe this program helped to prepare me to continue my graduate studies in social psychology." – Elizabeth Moschella (2016)
