

University of New Hampshire
College of Liberal Arts

CLASSICS

DEGREE OPTIONS

Classics, B.A. with Options in:
Ancient Mediterranean Civilizations
Classical Languages and Literatures
Latin and Latin Teaching

Majoring in classics is your door to the ancient world through the study of ancient Greek and Roman culture and the languages of ancient Greek and Latin. Once through that door, you will find an extensive building with lots of rooms offering many interesting topics, including mythology, religion, literature, and Hittite and Sanskrit, the ancient languages of Turkey and India — classics is the original interdisciplinary field. You're invited to build your own personal "house" with the kinds of rooms that fit your interests. But no matter what kind of house you choose, you will come away with an inclusive and rigorous education that will prepare you to confront the important issues we all face today.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Small enough for close faculty and student contact and large enough to offer a range of coursework and a diversity of faculty perspectives

Study abroad in Italy or Greece in programs run by faculty or in a range of other approved programs

John C. Rouman Classical Lecture Series brings extraordinary individuals to speak on classical topics

TOPICS YOU MAY STUDY

Classical mythology

Greek and Roman civilization

Women in antiquity

Latin or ancient Greek language study

Sex and desire in Greece and Rome

Happiness and the good life

Ancient religion

Race, ethnicity, class and classics

Sustainability and the Roman empire

“My most impactful professor at UNH was Stephen Trzaskoma in the classics program. I remember coming into his myth lecture as a brand new freshman wondering if I was going to drop it because I was so intimidated. To this day, I think it was one of the best classes I have ever taken. He is such a charismatic and helpful teacher, the kind that makes you want to go to their office hours just to talk about unrelated matters.”

— KEENAN DUNLEAVY '20

Department of Classics, Humanities and Italian Studies

316 Murkland Hall, 15 Library Way, Durham, NH 03824

Phone: (603) 862-3522

Website: cola.unh.edu/classics-humanities-italian-studies

AS A CLASSICS MAJOR, AMONG YOUR POTENTIAL CAREERS ARE:

Business owner
Diplomat
Doctor
Government consultant
Journalist
Lawyer
Linguist
Museum curator
Public Official
Sales executive
Teacher
Writer