

FRENCH

DEGREE OPTIONS

French, B.A.

French and French Studies Minors

French is the official language in 33 countries spread over five continents. While studying for your degree in French, you will gain fluency by learning the language and open your horizons by exploring French and Francophone literature, films and other cultural productions. You will learn about historical and contemporary civilization in a number of French-speaking countries, acquiring a deeper understanding of French heritage and the variety of cultures that make up the Francophone world. As a French major at UNH, you will work closely with dedicated and caring faculty who will get to know you well. You can combine French with other disciplines, such as international affairs or engineering, because of the importance of mastering a second language in our globalized world.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Small classes and close contact with faculty

Study abroad in a French-speaking country

UNH-managed programs at the University of Burgundy, Dijon, and in Toulouse

Strong departmental honors program

French conversation hour and language club

UNH chapter of the French National Honor Society, Pi Delta Phi

Research abroad opportunities

TOPICS YOU MAY STUDY

Advanced style and translation

Human rights and French fiction

Being other in French literature

France in the European Union

The age of Versailles on screen

Francophone literature: the colonies write back

Writing at the second degree at the time of Louis XIV

Bringing up baby in 18th-century France

Les Misérables and its world

“The French program at UNH allowed me to critically consider the social, artistic and political effects that transcend centuries in Francophone society. The amazing professors provided such diverse works in the French language and structured courses that encouraged dialogue and collaborative discussions in French — discussions that have stuck with me post-graduation.”

— EMILY OLIVIER '20

Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures

210L Murkland Hall, 15 Library Way, Durham, NH 03824

Phone: (603) 862-4005

Website: cola.unh.edu/languages-literatures-cultures

AS A FRENCH MAJOR, AMONG YOUR CAREER OPTIONS ARE:

Airline customer service agent
Bilingual service coordinator
Book review editor
Citizenship and immigration officer
Flight attendant
Foreign language teacher
Foreign service officer
Hospitality and tourism professional
Interpreter
Language assessor
Tourism officer
Translator