

University of New Hampshire
College of Liberal Arts

SPANISH

DEGREE OPTIONS

Spanish, B.A.

Spanish five-year B.A./accelerated master's program

Spanish is the second most spoken language in the world today, and the second language of the United States. In this degree program, you'll gain fluency in Spanish while also developing an appreciation for linguistics, Spanish literature, and Spanish or Latin American civilization and culture. With the program's dual emphasis on communicative and cultural competence, you'll be prepared to live and work in a world community where Spanish is important for both personal and professional reasons. To facilitate language acquisition and cultural competency, majors are required to spend time abroad in a Spanish-speaking country. Throughout the academic year, students participate in extracurricular activities that complement the curricular offerings. Many students in the program consider a double or dual major in a field such as business administration, linguistics, social work or international affairs.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Small classes and close contact with faculty

Weekly language conversation groups

Faculty-led study abroad in Granada, Spain, a city that boasts a rich Arab and Christian past as well as a vibrant present

Faculty-led study abroad in San Joaquín de Flores, Costa Rica, a country brimming with history, flora and fauna

Latin American, Latinx and Caribbean Studies minor option that enhances your study of Spanish with courses in anthropology, political science and history

Global Humanities Undergraduate Research Lab, bringing students and faculty together to engage with the pressing issues of our time

Puerto Rico Lab, featuring research, creative and social activities intended to increase understanding of Hurricane María's impact and the recovery in Puerto Rico

5-year accelerated master's program that allows you to earn both a B.A. and M.A. in Spanish in 5 years

“As a Spanish major, I’ve had the opportunity to study abroad in Granada, Spain, and conduct an undergraduate research project. In doing so, I’ve built strong relationships with department faculty and peers, expanded my understanding of international cultures and acquired strong language skills. Next year, I’ll be teaching in a school district where over 90% of the student body is Hispanic, and my time in the Languages, Literatures and Cultures Department has prepared me to be successful in my new role.”

— KYRA D’ENTREMONT ‘21

Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures

210L Murkland Hall, 15 Library Way, Durham, NH 03824

Phone: (603) 862-4005

Website: cola.unh.edu/languages-literatures-cultures

TOPICS YOU MAY STUDY:

Bilingualism and Spanish in the U.S.

Women in Hispanic film

Cyberliterature and cyberculture

Structure of Spanish - mood and aspect

Myths and legends in Spanish literature and culture

Theory and practice of translation

Trauma and memory in Southern Cone culture

Internet technologies and second language teaching

AS A SPANISH MAJOR, AMONG YOUR POTENTIAL CAREERS ARE:

Business leader

Communications director

Community advocate

Diplomat

Foreign service officer

International lawyer

Interpreter

Journalist

Social services case worker

Spanish teacher

Textbook author

Tour guide

Translator