

Funded by a multi-year grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, The New Hampshire Humanities Collaborative (NHHC) is a close collaboration between New Hampshire's higher education system of seven comprehensive community colleges and the College of Liberal Arts at UNH, the state's flagship public and research-intensive university. NHHC's overarching goal is to "enable students to pursue richer academic experiences and more rewarding professional and civic lives, empowering them to be effective participants in addressing the grand challenges of today and tomorrow."

UNH College of Liberal Arts (COLA); UNH Global Racial and Social Inequality Lab (GRSIL); Great Bay Community College, Portsmouth (GBCC); Lakes Region Community College (LRCC); Manchester Community College (MCC); NHTI—Concord's Community College (NHTI); Nashua Community College (NCC); River Valley Community College (RVCC); White Mountains Community College (WMCC); UNH Durham.
